PREFACE

The first General Catalogue of McCormick Theological Seminary was issued in 1900. A committee of the Faculty consisting of Drs. D. C. Marquis, J. Ross Stevenson and Andrew C. Zenos was appointed by the Board of Directors in 1897 with instructions to prepare and publish this General Catalogue but when they undertook the work they discovered that on account of the lapse of time since the foundation of the Seminary, the decease of many of those who could have furnished accurate information regarding its graduates and the inevitable confusion occasioned by the several interruptions and changes in its life and organization, it was impossible to secure absolutely full and trustworthy data in every case. The result, however, was given to the public with the design of calling forth additions and corrections, and, on the basis of these, reissuing the Catalogue later.

The invitation extended to the alumni to co-operate in this work of revision was heartily accepted by many, and numerous changes and corrections have been furnished by them. Nevertheless, as might have been expected, a very large proportion of the gaps were found impossible to fill; and a large number of errors no doubt have persisted. The work of preparing such a catalogue is, for obvious reasons, beset with great difficulties. The edition issued in 1900 was used as the basis for another in 1912 in which appeared in substance the earlier work with such corrections as were secured. It also contained the records of all matriculants to the date of its issue. The present issue simply continues the records of the earlier up to the present and of those who matriculated up to 1924, graduating in 1927.

In plan and scope the present edition retains in general the features of the earlier ones. It aims to give the following items of information regarding every person who has been matriculated as a student: (1) Full name; (2) Present address; (3) Place and time of birth; (4) College and date of graduation; (5) Employment, if any, between graduation from college and matriculation in the Seminary; (6) Length of time spent in the Seminary, together with attendance, if any, at other seminaries; (7) Ordination or licensure, inclusive of date and name of licensing or ordaining body; (8) Fields of Labor with time spent in each; (9) Date and place of death, or residence upon retirement from active labors; (10) Special services, such as those of moderators of Synods and General Assembly.

It will be seen from the above plan that the object of the Catalogue is not to give a full biography, or even a biographical sketch, of the alumni, but only to trace their public life as related to the Seminary, and its work in them and through them. It has not, therefore, been deemed proper to name the work a Biographical Catolgue, either in its first edition or in this revised form.

A single change affecting the order and grouping has been made from the original plan of 1900. In that edition all the names of the matriculants were given according to the years of their matriculation. No effort was made to distinguish between full graduates and partial students, or those who had entered and taken the regular course but gone elsewhere for graduation. For the matriculants of the years 1830-1860 this method of entering the names was still found necessary, with the change, however, of the year of matriculation to the year of normal graduation, on the assumption that every matriculant had graduated. From the year 1861 onward, the records made it easy to distinguish carefully between graduates and non-graduate matriculants. The classification, accordingly, is based upon two lists, alphabetically arranged—that of the graduates and that of the simple matriculants for each year.

—ANDREW C. ZENOS.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The length of stay in the Seminary is indicated by a figure within parentheses, e. g. (1), denoting the academic sessions spent here. The additional sign (+or—) means a few months, more or less. The abbreviation (grad.) shows that the student completed his course in full and was graduated. A dash without a figure (—) indicates a stay of only a few days. When these signs are preceded or followed by the name of another theological seminary, it denotes that the student was received from or dismissed to that seminary.

A dash and a period (—.) at the end of the record shows that the person is still in the place and occupation previously denoted. A semicolon and dash (;—) indicates that further information is wanted.

Honorary degrees are attached to the names of those who are entitled to them, and are followed, wherever the data are known, by the name of the college conferring them. Alumni who have been directors or trustees of the Seminary, or of other educational institutions of the collegiate grade, or moderators of the General Assembly or of Synods are distinguished by the mention of such appointments.

No effort has been made to distinguish between living and deceased alumni, inasmuch as full information on this subject could not be procured.

Each class roll has been divided into two sections, the graduate and the non-graduate respectively. Names in the non-graduate sections are indicated in the index with an asterisk. Since 1908 graduates are classified in two groupes, those who receive the degree of B. D. and those who receive the diploma. The difference between the two is shown by the insertion of the degree after the item of graduation in the case of the former (3 grad. B. D.)

The list of abbreviations will be found at the end of the volume, immediately preceding the alphabetical index of students' names.
